Solidarity:

Safety, Justice, Wellbeing

“Collaboration is vital to sustain what we call profound or really deep change, because without it, organisations are just overwhelmed by the forces of the status quo.”

Solidarity: Safety, Justice, Wellbeing

We know women and children experiencing domestic and family violence and sexual violence benefit when services are integrated across sectors. This is especially true for women in rural and regional areas, women with disability, women from culturally and linguistically diverse backgrounds, and Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander women, who all face additional barriers to accessing services.

About the program

By combining practice wisdom and research evidence, the Safety, Justice, Wellbeing series will create the space for practitioners to build on existing work and imagine new possibilities for collective, integrated and collaborative work. Whether you are already part of a collaborative process, or would like to be, this series will help you achieve your goals.

Following on from last year's popular Daring, Inclusive, Feminist Leadership series, this series will provide opportunities for you to participate at a level that meets your needs and capacity. Symposiums, delivered across 2022 will inspire your thinking and build your connections across the sector and beyond. You can also choose to opt into a program of peer groups session which will build on the content delivered in the symposiums and may lead to further action learning opportunities, supported by WorkUP Queensland.

This is a flexible program that includes two core components:

1. Symposiums: Covering three main topic areas, Safety, Justice and Wellbeing, the symposiums will consist of a keynote and then a panel discussion. Panel discussions will include a practitioner, an academic and case study relevant to the topic.
2. Facilitated peer learning groups: Delving deeply into the themes of Safety, Wellbeing and Justice, peer groups can consist of members from within one organisation or be cross-sectoral.

To get the best out of this program we encourage people to engage in both components. We recognise the constraints of the sector and to support flexibility people may choose to attend the symposiums only. The peer learning groups will scaffold learning from the symposiums, so it is essential to also participate in the three symposiums if you wish to join the peer learning groups.

Who should attend?

All practitioners working in the sector would benefit from participating in this series, especially those in leadership and decision-making positions.

Why attend?

- To learn about successful examples of integration and collaboration currently in practice
- To be inspired to think about what this means for you and your sector to then explore in practice
- To make connections with practitioners within and across your sector, as well as with leading thinkers

Join Jan Archer (Archersfield Consulting and Management) and a raft of inspirational speakers from practice and academia as we explore what Safety, Justice and Wellbeing mean for the people we work with, and for the workforce.

1. Symposiums

You can participate in the symposiums only. To register visit:

<https://events.humanitix.com/safety-justice-wellbeing-integration-series>

Symposiums	Date
Symposium 1: Safety	30 March 2022 (Online)
Symposium 2: Justice	8 June 2022 (Face to Face)
Symposium 3: Wellbeing	14 September 2022 (TBD)

2. Peer Learning Groups

To register for the peer learning groups you must also register for the three symposiums above. To register your interest in participating in a peer support network visit: <https://events.humanitix.com/safety-justice-wellbeing-integration-series>

The peer learning groups are designed to be flexible to meet the needs of the sector. The facilitator will be in touch to develop a date schedule for the year to meet the needs each group. It is anticipated that each peer learning group will meet a maximum of 6 times during the year (April, May, July, August, October and November).

When you register for the peer learning groups we will ask you to let us know some details to help us design the right structure to meet your needs. You will need to let us know about:

Your preferred day of the week:

- Monday
- Tuesday
- Wednesday
- Thursday
- Friday

Your preferred time to connect:

- Morning
- Afternoon
- After hours weekdays

What you would like to gain from participation in a peer support network.

Any preferences you have regarding your participation in the peer support networks.
